

The Voyage of the "Sunseeker IV"

Catalina 400

Sailed by: Larry & Jane Burge

After much deliberation, Larry and Jane Burge chose a Catalina 400 as their long distance ocean cruising yacht, and March 2, 1996, they departed Tampa, Florida on a passage that would take them 15 months.

From Tampa, Sunseeker headed for the Florida Keys, then to the Bahamas, the Turks and Caicos, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Then down the island chain from St. Kitts to Guadeloupe, Dominica, Martinique, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and through the Grenadines. Continuing south, Sunseeker made several stops in Venezuela then Bonair, Curacao, Aruba. Next they made Jamaica, the Cayman Islands and a tour of Mexico beginning with Isla Mujeres and ending with Xcalak and finally San Pedro and Placentia, Belize and back to Key West.
